CAUGHT AT LAST.

Alleged Youthful Forger Arrested at Lewisport.

CASHED OTHER BOGUS CHECKS

He Went to Sturgis to Get An Education.

HIS CONSCIENCE SMOTE HIM.

Sold to Have Green Goods Circulars in His Trunk.

Frank Fraize, of this city, was not the only victim of the sixteen year old boy forger who visited this city a few days ago.

In the expressive language of the assessor, Morris, the youthful forger comes of a good family. His parents reside about three miles from Paterree.

On Thursday, two weeks ago, he determined that he could make a living easier by being a crack-o-jack, "Jim the penman" that he could be by selling his honest farmer's boy.

So he took his pig and bled himself to Cloverport. In his veins, besides a pair of sox and a colludol collar he placed two check books, one belonging to the Hancock Deposit Bank, of Hawesville, and the other to a Bowing Green Bank.

He peddled all right at Cloverport and indiscriminately wrote out ten or twelve checks, calling for $5 each, and signed Capt. S. J. Baker's name to them.

He succeeded in getting F. Fraize to cash one and started for Paterree.

As the story goes he managed to get a check for $55 cashed in that good old town Fraize, and when he got home on the same day he appeared at Owensboro and got the cashier of the Eagle Bank there to cash a check for $55.

Walter was next to Sturgis, where he engaged board for the purpose of going to school. While at the latter town, however, his conscience troubled him and he wrote to his parents to let them know he had started back and got away as Lewisport where he was apprehended by the Hancock county officials.

Twelve ticks Hiles, of this city, went to Hawesville Saturday and tried to obtain custody of the boy but the officials refused to give him up as he is to be tried.

It is said that Walter's trunk was found to contain a quantity of green goods literature and it is also alleged that he swindled a large number of people by writing them letters asking them to send 20 cents and see what they would receive in return. The return letter never came.

He will have a hard road to travel in the future.

WAS NOT DROWNED.

Dave Henry Passes Safely Through a Steamboat Wreck.

It was reported in this city that David Henry, Jr., was lost in the steamer, "Lillian," which was burned on the Tennessee river, Thursday night.

Mr. Henry was a passenger on the boat, but as all were rescued the fears of his friends are groundless.

He is a son of John Lewis Henry, of near Irvington, and has a host of friends in this section. He is now located at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Coughing injuries and influenza sore lungs. One minute Cough Cure loosens the cold, allays coughing and heals quickly. The best cough and cold relief. The best cough and cold relief. Strong and safe.

Stricken With Paralysis.

John Criss, an aged citizen of this city, was suddenly stricken with paralysis Thursday night. He is about sixty years of age and his recovery is doubtful. He served in the Union army during the war of the rebellion.

Those Dreadful Sores

They Continued to Spread in Spite of Treatment but Now They are Healed - A Wonderful Story.

"For many years I have had great suffering from various sores on one of my limbs. My foot and limb became dreadfully swollen. When I stood up I could feel the blood rushing down the veins of the limb. One day I accidentally cut my sores and they became a sore hole. The sores continued to spread and was exceedingly painful. I concluded I needed a blood purifier and began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a few days the sores had healed and caused me so much suffering, began to heal. I kept on faithfully with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in a short time my limb was completely healed and I had no more to complain. I can be too thankful for the wonderful work Hood's Sarsaparilla, has done for me." Mrs. A. E. Grimes, Harlan, Vermont.

TO BE MARRIED. Popular Railroad Man to Trot in Double Harness.

The announcement of the engagement of James E. Buckley to Miss Olive Howard, of Fordsville, will be an agreeable surprise to their many friends.

Mr. Buckley is one of the most efficient and popular engineers in the employ of the L. & S. L. railroad. He pulls the throttle on a locomotive running on the branch.

Miss Howard is one of Fordsville's most beautiful daughters. The wedding will take place in the near future. The couple have the best wishes of the News and a legion of friends.

LEATHER COLLARS.

A New Fad Introduced By a Fordsville Man.

The striped collar has had its run and has been laid away on the shelf with dead fads. The latest thing in collars, and for the most attractive and sensible is the leather collar, originated by Mr. Smith, of Fordsville. It is a turn down collar for gentlemen and make of leather. It is the greatest thing in the shape of a novelty that has ever been invented.

SURELY CRIMPY.

Man Frozen to Death at Fordsville.

MCMULLEN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Temperature Was Forty Below at Fordsville.

A COAL FAMINE IN TOWN.

Of Course The Gas Had to Give Out.

Old Boreas, whoever he is, got very affectionate and has been holding this country in a icy embrace for the past week.

He entwined his frigid arms about this region last Thursday and despite everything still holds on.

The old boy was not satisfied with this record however and although Thursday was the coldest in twenty years he established a new record Monday morning when he made the temperature go down to minus ten in another fellow's thermometer.

Old Boreas is dead but the record still stands.

PEACHES KILLED IN HARDIN.

D. L. Talbot, a prominent fruit raiser at Elizabethtown, writing to the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS, says: "Our peaches are badly hurt, but I think there is still a half crop. I believe we may have a full crop of apples."

Two Good Men Gone.

Orville Gregory Dies at Byron, Georgia.

Sudden Death of a Prominent Citizen of Stith Valley.

Orville Gregory is dead. He died at Byron, Ga., Tuesday morning, to be brought home and will arrive here this evening. The funeral will take place from the home of his mother, Mrs. L. G. Gregory, Thursday morning.

He was the very best young man in this city. He was gifted with a fine character and had qualities of head and heart that made him a truly good citizen.

He was twenty six years of age, a member of the local Masonic lodge and of the Baptist church.

He died with his wife and child to Byron, Ga., three weeks ago, in the hope of regaining his health.

A host of friends mourn his loss and extend sympathies to the bereaved members of his family.

He died at 6 o'clock in the morning, said his wife, who was at his side when he died.

BOYS IN TRAMP LIFE.

FRANK WILLARD, the author of a series of magazine articles upon tramp life, addressed a meeting of the Public Education Association, held in Berkeley Lyceum, at New York City Saturday afternoon. He spoke in the interest of the Tonks prize on school, and made special reference to the boys in the tramp army.

"The railroads," said the speaker, "are the worst slums we have in this country. Their widespread use for the purposes of tramps date back to the period just after the war. A large number of men and boys, accustomed to camp life in the army, found themselves compelled to return to regular occupations."

The railroads became their highway. At first they walked, but it was an easy and a natural step to ride, and by 1877 the hobo had come into existence as a class. By '85 they were recognized as a nuisance.

"The bulk of these men soon discovered the value of begging by proxy. The boy became a factor in the hobo's life. The hobo exercises an easy fascination over the average boy of romantic temperament. The boys told stirring stories of their adventures, and the tramp was soon assured that he could ride all over the country in a 'side-door' Pullman for nothing."

"Then the boy's apprenticeship begins. His duty is to beg. He is made to think crime a successful career and regard prison life as an important but necessary part of the business. I believe that the school that would take him from the ranks of the hobo should consider crime as a business—as the criminal does—and show the boy that it does not pay. From my experience and observation I should say that it is a dangerous place to present the boy in this light. The criminal is seven months old. The master would be presented to the boy in this light. Keep agitating the good road question. Don't drop it until we get what we want."

The statements of this authority bear out the views expressed in a BARKER-ROSE News editorial on the subject, printed about two months ago. Stop the free ride nuisance and you practically solve the tramp problem.

THERE IS SUNSHINE IN THE HOUSEHOLD,
There is music in the air,
There is joy within the threshold,
There is mirth and laughter rare.
We are free from care and trouble,
Old worry's flew the track,
Our fare now is double,
For our cook's come back.

TO ABOLISH THE BOARD.

LOUISVILLE need not be told that the country is arrayed against her. The school course she is pursuing makes her a political political party.

It is apparent that Louisville is working for her own glory and material prosperity alone. When her people utter the cry, "Patronize home industries," they do not mean the industries of Kentucky, but the industries of Louisville. Witness the boating that is being waged in that city against Kentucky rock asphalt.

We do not believe that all the citizens of Louisville are in favor of the selfish, provincial course she is pursuing. The majority would prevent it if they could. They would rather see the city adopt a liberal business policy of reciprocity than the one she now follows, in view of her program.

The thing that interests Louisville is her Board of Public Works. Were that body abolished she would stand some show. It is the instrument that is preventing the development of Kentucky's asphalt interests. It is the power that is killing a resource that, if developed, would result in adding great wealth to six or eight counties immediately tributary to Louisville.

These counties are now organizing an opposition to the Louisville Board of Public Works, and they will see to it that a ripper bill is introduced and passed in the next House that will abolish the board. This will be an act of kindness to Louisville, and will be a movement that will burst the chrysalis that holds captive her possibilities for growth.

NO, THE MAN IS NOT A HERO
Who wears his Spring tags
When the weather's at zero;
He's one of the Prince of Wales' own,
For the weather is Spring-like
In "dead old Lunnon" town.

UPON THEIR HANDS, THE BLOOD.

The blood of Colonel Colson is on the hands of President McKinley and Secretary of War Ager. Ethelbert Scott, the henchman who shot Colonel Colson in a room at the White House, had been declared by a board of military men as incompetent to act as an officer, and was about to be dismissed before the Presidet and the Secretary of War. A pull of some kind, however, Scott's strap, and he was allowed to wear them until the Fourth Kentucky was mustered out. While he was in service he was a monument of insubordination, and the high officials of the land, in continuing him in service, countenanced conduct prejudicial to discipline and manliness. The disgrace that Scott has brought upon the Fourth regiment and upon the State of Kentucky was committed at by the administration. Upon their heads rests the blame. They prevented Colson getting a square deal, and that were responsible for his wounds.

AFTER DUE CONSIDERATION,
And deliberate consultation,
We have come to the determination
To announce without hesitation
That it's cold enough for us.

ON THE SHELF AT THIRTY-FIVE.

MISS JANE ADDAMS of Hull House, who studies charity "in a scientific way," inclines in her investigations the problem of early life marriage.

"A professional man," she says, "is scarcely equipped and started in his profession before he is thirty; a business man, if he is on the road to success, is much nearer prosperity at thirty-five than at twenty-five and it is therefore wise for these men not to marry in the twenties. But this does not apply to the workingman. He is later upon the road to success at thirty-five, and in nearly all trades he receives the largest share of his life between twenty and thirty. If the young workman has all his wages too long to himself, he will probably establish habits of personal comfort which he can keep up when he has to divide with a family—habits which perhaps he can never overcome."

It's so cold, "they say" in Greenland
That it will just freeze off your hair.
So that, gee whiz! is what it is
That makes the Polar bear.

A TIME FOR CAUTION.

The "money devils," who conduct the financial interests of the country are becoming more disinterested than the Populists. Times are so good and money so plentiful that there is less demand for it. Hundreds of millions of dollars are lying idle and the rates of interest are going rapidly that there is hardly any money to be made in the loaning business. The reason for this is that it is a source of danger. It is liable to lead to an era of reckless investments and inflation that would inevitably result in another "1893." The temptation to invest money in "schemes" and to capitalize "prospects," in such an era as this is great. The times are as trying as they are during a panic and they demand as much conservatism and just as much caution as if there was a stringency in the money market. Go slow.

If the North Pole is discovered
(But it won't be, so we're told),
No one will dare climb it where
The climate is so cold.

GOOD TIME TO APPLY THE RULE.

Have you tried to find out how the other half lives during this cold weather? If not, try it. You may find an opportunity to do a charitable deed. Remember it is more blessed to give than to receive. Seek out some poor devil and cheer him up by giving him a job of work. Hustle up some poor family and do the members a real deed of kindness. The happiness that will result will make you pat yourself on the back, and you will feel good all day long. Now's the time to do good. Do unto others as you would that others would do unto you.

MATTER FOR CONGRATULATION.

A gain of $175,000,000 in the value of live stock on farms in a single year is a matter for congratulation. Yet that is just what American agriculturists specialise in.

report shows. Every class of live stock has shared in the improvement, except hogs, but the shrinkage is not serious, hogs being regarded profitable property by farmers at large, especially in the heavy corn belt. The depression in the stock industry, pronounced a few years ago, and at its worst in 1896, has since that date shown a gratifying change toward complete recovery. The upward movement continues with increasing force and volume.

A WORD TO FARMERS.

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS is a greater editor. It presents to its farmer constituents a weekly agricultural page that contains as much good reading matter as the average high class farm journal. We intend to make this a leading feature of this paper, and hope that those for whom it is intended will be benefited by its teaching. During the past year there has been a wonderful improvement in farm methods in this country. This is due to the fact that the farmer is more interested in his business. He is more willing to study, more willing to take the time to do so. His methods of cultivation are more scientific, his knowledge of the market is more accurate, and his ability to conduct a farm successfully as it does a big mercantile establishment. This is hopeful, and it is no more than right that the News should help him in his efforts to keep posted in his business.

KEEP ON AGITATING.

THE people of Breckinridge county have made great progress toward securing good roads. Because the results achieved last year by an unusual expenditure of labor and money were not entirely satisfactory it should not interfere with further progress in that direction. The failures we have met with should make us all the more determined to succeed. Every thinking man realises the value of a good highway system. Every property owner and public spirited citizen should be in favor of the county building as good roads as her wealth will permit. Keep agitating the good road question. Don't drop it until we get what we want.

Uncle Aleck's Chunks of Philosophy.

UNCLE ALLEX LASLIE is known far and wide as Cloverport's colored philosopher. His wit is spicy and original. It is demonstrated by the fact that when his thirteenth child appeared upon this mundane sphere, he dubbed it "Thirteen" Laslie, and said: "Dat chile will eider be a Pullman' ca' postah or will hang He can't hep it wif dat name."

The following is a sample of the views that "Uncle" Aleck entertains on men and things:

If yeh wants ter hab sombin nice said about yeh, die.

What Shall We Do.

A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because we are not sure that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it.

The name of this disease which may be divided into three distinct stages is, First, Kdney trouble, indicated by pain in the back, rheumatism, lamboigo, frequent defecation, etc., often with a burning sensation, the eyes and being conous and scut with strong odor.

If allowed to advance, this reaches the Second stage, or Bladder trouble, with heavy pain in the abdomen low down between the navel and the water passages, increasing desire to urinate, with burning sensations in passing small quantities of urine, difficulty to draw it in, etc. If uric acid or gravel has formed, it will prove dangerous if neglected.

The Third stage is Bright's Disease. There is comfort in knowing that Dr. K. Ilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist, has discovered a Remedy "amazing" for it. The best cures of the most distressing cases and known as Dr. K. Ilmer's Swap-Root.

It is sold by all druggists.

As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this great discovery, Swap-Root, a sample bottle and book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail upon application to Dr. K. Ilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

SAVED OUR LIFE.

Do Not Neglect the Kdney and Bladder.

Disease of three important organs causes Bright's disease, rheumatism, pain in the back, dropsy and other troubles. Disease sometimes gets a hold upon your kidneys and bladder before you realize anything serious is the matter. Often these organs are the first to be affected by Bright's disease, has fastened upon you, and death awaits your victim. Many miraculous cures have been wrought by a course of treatment with Dr. David Kidney Tablets. These tablets are put up in the shape of a kidney bean, and the formula has been repeated for many years.

OPEN DOOR CLUB.

HARRISON, Ky., Feb. 10, 1898.
To the News—Our Open Door Literary Club met February 6. The result of R. N. Miller. Owing to the inclemency of the weather and the fact that the revival had interfered with several meetings of the club all the members were not present. As the program was patriotic in character it was appropriately and tastefully decorated with hunting and United States flags. President Logan called the club to order at eight o'clock, and on the roll call each member responded with a patriotic quotation. A highly humorous selection was read by Prof. Logan, which was greatly enjoyed.

Carrying out the patriotic idea refreshments consisting of genuine hard tack and water were then served. But immediately afterward we were ushered into the dining room, where delightful viands were provided for our enjoyment. Mrs. Miller is an artist, and has made the entertainment of guests a fine art.

The following program was arranged for the next meeting:

Roll call. — Quotations about men.

Music— "The Star-Spangled Banner." Miss Smith

Recitations— "Miss Edna Kildee."

Reading— "The Story of the World."

General Discussion— "The Club."

At its next regular meeting, which will be February 20, the club will be entertained by Miss Mary L. Smith.

Dr. Bill's Cough Syrup will cure throat and lung trouble without fail. For grape, influenza and a deep-seated cough or cold, it is the best remedy to be had. The doses are small and a bottle costs only 50c.
